[Qualification and conditions]

Applicants must satisfy all of the following qualifications and conditions:

(1) Applicants:

Applicants must be persons who will come to study in the Graduate Program of Chuo University in September 2021 as a non-degree research student (Kenkyusei) or non-degree student (Senkasei) and have the purpose of studying as full-time degree-seeking student at Chuo University.

Applicants must be nominated formally by the President, Vice-President, or the Dean of Graduate School of the partner institutions of Chuo University (including institution which is under the negotiation procedure to conclude cooperation agreement with Chuo University). Those applicants preferably current student of the graduate school but it may include persons who have a certification of graduation prospect or have already graduated from the undergraduate or graduate program of the home institution or who are currently academic staff members of the home institution.

- (2) Nationality: Applicants must be citizens of a country officially recognized by Japanese Government. Applicants who possess Japanese citizenship can't apply this scholarship. Applicants nationalities are defined by MEXT on the list showed above.
- (3) Age: Applicants must be born on or after April 2, 1986.
- (4) Academic Background:
Applicants must have graduated from the undergraduate program of a university/college or the equivalent.

Applicants must have excellent academic and personal records of basically the previous or present academic home institutions as a degree-seeking full time student. Please consider the following principles on grading standard designated by MEXT when host institutions recommend its' applicant(s) to this scholarship program.

[Grading standard example designated by MEXT]

Applicants must have minimum GPA 2.30/3.0 or higher to be able to be eligible for MEXT applicant.

Please don't recommend applicant who doesn't meet this requirement.

Applicant's GPA must be calculated using the MEXT system. Applicant's grades must be included in this calculation. As different universities may use different grading systems, MEXT has prepared the following table of examples to demonstrate its calculation system for converting applicants' GPAs to the MEXT GPA standard. Your MEXT-calculated GPA is rounded down to the third decimal place. Academic performance should be based on regular course performance. Do not include the grades of research students (non-regular courses, Japanese language education institutions, etc.). For graduates, calculate the academic performance of the final academic background, and for current students, calculate the academic performance of the course currently enrolled.

Examples of grading scales used by universities	Grades
		Excellent	Good	Fair	Poor
Example 1: 4-point scale	-
Example 2: 4-point scale	-	A	B	C	F
Example 3: 4-point scale	-	100-80	79-70	69-60	59 or below
Example 4: 5-point scale	100-90	89-80	79-70	69-60	59 or below
Example 5: 5-point scale	S	A	B	C	F
Example 6: 5-point scale	A	B	C	D	F
MEXT Grade Points Awarded	3	3	2	1	0

If your home university does not use any credit system, please do the following to calculate your GPA:

- Using the above scheme, add your grade points for every course you have completed.
- Then divide it by the total number of courses you have completed.

(5) Study Area:

The study area must be in the same or related field as the applicant has studied in his/her undergraduate level. In addition, the study area must be the field that Chuo University is able to instruct him/her.

(6) Health:

Applicants must have no infectious diseases. In view of expected psychological burden due to cultural and environmental changes, mental as well as physical health is an essential prerequisite. Please submit the certificate of Health format.

Students should register for the National Health Insurance at local government in Japan and to pay this insurance fee, which is very small (ex.: ¥1,000/month).

(7) Japanese Language Proficiency: In principal, applicants need to submit certification of language proficiency.

① Applicants who wish to pursue such fields of study as Japanese linguistics, Japanese literature, Japanese history and Japanese law are required to have sufficient Japanese language proficiency to catch up with these courses at graduate level. Even if the applicant's Japanese language proficiency is not sufficient, if a potential advisor on the faculty of Chuo University determines that the applicant is acceptable, Chuo University will nominate the applicant to MEXT after the university's internal screening process. However, to be a full-time degree-seeking student with scholarship, students need to pass the entrance examination and extension of scholarship examination and show the language proficiency with certain certifications. (②1) or 2))

② Language requirements.

A person who meets one of the following requirements can apply. Person who has either Japanese or English ability can be acceptable.

Japanese

1) Those who have passed Japanese Language Proficiency Test (JLPT) level N2 or higher at the time of admission to the regular program.

2) Those who meet the qualifications for admission to the Japanese graduate school and have completed the curriculum of master's program, doctoral program (first term), or doctoral program (second term) with Japanese as the main language.

3) Those who can be judged at the host university as having Japanese language skills equivalent to 1) or higher.

*English

2. Screening at Chuo University

Screening procedures at Chuo University will be done as follows:

- 1) All candidates are required to choose host professors according to their major. They may choose up to two possible professors.

-Database of Chuo professors:
<https://researchers.chuo-u.ac.jp/scripts/websearch/index.htm> -Information on Graduate schools: <http://www.chuo-u.ac.jp/academics/>

- 2) The International Center, Chuo University will forward all application materials to the relevant Graduate Schools.
- 3) Each prospective host professor will receive the application materials through the office of the Graduate School and examine them, and then the professor will decide if he/she will be able to accept the candidate as a research student.

In case that a candidate is appropriate for a research student, the professor will contact a candidate by e-mail to have further information by asking the purpose of study, field of study and so on. After this e-mail correspondence (internet interview), the professor will make final decision if he/she accepts a candidate as a full time non degree student. If a candidate doesn't contact the professor by the designated date, he/she will miss the opportunity to be recommended. A candidate will receive e-mail from the professor in from late January to early February 2021.

If the professor decides that a candidate is not appropriate for a research student, Chuo University cannot receive him/her as a research student.

- 4) Based on the application documents and the decision of each prospective host professor, the International Center Committee will make a decision on whether candidates be recommended to MEXT as a candidate of scholarship grantee.
- 5) International Center of Chuo University will notify the applicants' home institution of the results of screening at Chuo University in early April 2021.
- 6) To be a full-time degree seeking student with this scholarship, applicants need to pass the entrance examination of Chuo University and also get permission to extend the scholarship from MEXT.

3. Screening by MEXT

Chuo University will recommend the candidates to MEXT with all required documents. MEXT will then confer with the selection committee. MEXT will make the final decision for the grantee and the term of scholarship.

[Please note]:

- 1) Chuo University cannot grantee that the recommended students will be accepted by MEXT as grantees.
- 2) Even though the applicant failed in acquiring this scholarship, Chuo University does not provide financial grant of any kind.

4. Notice of MEXT's screening results

MEXT will inform the results of the screening to Chuo University by the end of June 2021. International Center, Chuo University will notify the applicants' home institution of the results then.

Conditions need to be followed by the regulations of MEXT and Chuo University.
